This is one of a series of reports presenting the findings of the 1933 Census of American Business. The statistics were collected in 1934 by a field canvass of retail stores in every State, city, and county in the United States, with funds provided by the Federal Civil Works Administration. They cover the operations of retailers during the year 1933.

The reports are prepared, under the supervision of Fred A. Gosnell, Chief Statistician for the Census of American Business, by John Guernsey, in charge of Retail Distribution. Assistance in the preparation of this report was rendered by William A. Ruff, Assistant Chief Statistician, and James O. Reid, Retail Assistant.

RETAIL CENSUS REPORTS - FINAL SERIES: 1933

ARRANGEMENT AND CONTENTS OF VOLUMES

Volume I - U. S. Summary. Contains a general description of the Retail Census for 1933, definitions of terms and classifications, and U. S. Summaries, by kinds of business and by States, of Tables 1 to 6 and 10 to 12 contained in volumes listed below. It also includes tables providing an analysis of retail sales (Table 7), a summary of wholesalers' sales at retail (Table 8) and an analysis of receipts of service establishments (Table 9).

A separate section presents an analysis by size of city of stores and sales, classified into 11 kind-of-business groups. This analysis is carried through for each State and geographic division and summarized for the United States as a whole.

Comparisons with 1929 of the principal data by kinds of business are contained in a special table (Table A), which is presented separately for each State and in summary for the United States.

A chain-store section contains a summary of all known retail chains, classified by kinds of business, showing units, sales, stocks, employees and payroll in stores and in central office, reported expenses in stores and in central-offices and the proportion prorated to stores.

Volume 2 - General Statistics, by States and 13 largest cities, by kinds of business (Table 1). Employment, by States and 13 largest cities, by kinds of business (Table 2).

Volume 3 - County Totals. Contains summary of stores, sales, proprietors, full-time employees and payroll for each city, town and county throughout the United States (Table 11), and summary by 52 kinds of business for each city of more than 50,000 population (Table 12).

Volume 4 - Analysis of Stores by Date of Establishment, showing for each State and for each kind of business the number and sales of stores established in 1933 (by quarters), those establishments between 1929 and 1933, and those in operation in 1933 which were also in operation in 1929 (Table 6).

Volume 5 - Credit Business. Contains analysis for each State of stores and sales by kinds of business, classified to show credit-granting stores separate from all-cash stores (Table 5).

Volume 6 - Chains and Independents and other types of operation - State totals, and more detailed analyses for 18 kinds of business in which chains are a more or less important factor (Table 3).

Volume 7 - Stores and sales by size of business. Shows stores and sales by kinds of business, classified in 10 size groups, by States (Table 4).

Volume 8 - Retail Distribution, 1933, by Areas. Stores and sales by 11 business groups, for States, counties and cities (Table 10).

Special Reports by Trades. Food Retailing, Variety-Store Chains, Department-Store Chains, Drug Retailing (including drug-store chains), Retail Employment and Wages, Automotive Retailing, Apparel Retailing and others. (Separate reports have been issued covering the above-named subjects; they are not brought together in a single volume).

ARRANGEMENT AND CONTENTS OF VOLUMES

CENSUS OF AMERICAN BUSINESS
RETAIL DISTRIBUTION: 1933

VOL. V - CREDIT BUSINESS

In 1933 retailers sold nearly $7,000,000,000 of merchandise on credit, which constitutes about 28 percent of total retail sales in that year. One-half of the total number of stores were credit-granting stores; sales in such stores accounted for 62 percent of total sales in all stores. Of the sales in credit-granting stores, 45 percent was made on credit in 1933 as compared with 53 percent in 1929.

Comparison with 1929

Other comparisons with 1929 are somewhat difficult because in 1929 credit sales were not defined as broadly as in 1933, when every sale which was not strictly a cash sale was regarded as a credit transaction.1/ In 1929 a considerable number of stores - 240,604 stores with sales aggregating $5,894,681,000 - failed to report clearly whether and how much they sold on credit and were not included in the 1929 credit tabulatilns. Tne analysis for 1929 was carried through on a major sample of 1,302,554 stores after the 240,604 stores not sufficiently ikentified were eliminated from the total of 1,543,158 stores.

In 1933, on the other hand, the coverage on the credit question was more complete and the few stores which failed to report clearly on credit sales were grouped with cash stores for practical purposes. The comparison with 1929 is presented in a summary below, in which two sets of percentages are given for 1929--one as published in the 1929 volume on Retail Distribution and the other based on totals merging stores selling entirely for cash with those whose credit status was not clear.

	1933	1929
	Percent of Total	Percent of total excluding unidenti-fied stores	Percent of total including unidenti-fied stores
Number of stores reporting credit sales	50	50	42
Sales of such stores-percent to total sales	62	65	57
Credit sales--percent to total sales	28	34	30

It is clear that although the number of credit-granting stores is greater the amount of credit granted by retailers in 1933 was smaller than in 1929, both in dollars and in relation to total sales; this holds regardless of which set of figures for 1929 is used for comparison with 1933.

Volume of Retail Credit

The volume of credit sales reported by retailers for 1933 is $6,943,584,000. This figure, however, covers only credit extended by retailers - sales for which they received no immediate payment in cash. To measure the full volume of retail credit, allowance must be made for credit extended by installment-finance companies. Some retailers, particularly automobile dealers, use outside finance companies to carry their deferred payment accounts. Their customers pay the cost of this financing and the dealers receive from the finance companies the amount in cash that they would have received had they sold to the customer for cash. As a result most motor vehicle dealers using such a plan regarded their sales under it as cash sales and so reported. In 1933 for instance, of the $2,127,720,000 of total sales of motor-vehicle dealers the amount reported as credit sales is only $86,473,000 or 41 percent, whereas if finance company credit is included it is probable that a much larger proportion of their sales was on credit. Due to lack of uniform terminology it is impossible to state from the data at hand how much of the $862,473,000 represents credit extended by retailers and how much is finance-company credit.

1/ The schedule reads: "Include sales made on weekly, 10-day, 30-day, end-of-month, installment or other credit basis- all excepr strictly cash sales".

Nor is it possible to state with any degree of precision the volume of retail purchases financed by finance companies. According to reports received by the Bureau of the Census from a large sample of finance companies, the obligations assumed by them in connection with retail purchases of new and used passenger cars amounted in 1933 to nearly $600,000,000. There is no doubt, therefore, that the amount of consumer credit in 1933 was considerably greater than the amount reported to the Census of American Business as having been extended by retailers.

Installment Credit

In 1929 data were available which made it possible to estimate that installment credit for that year approximated 13 percent of total sales and that open-account credit approximated 21 percent. The schedule for 1933 carried no inquiry on installment credit.

Retail Credit by Kinds of Business

Table 5A presents the information concerning retail credits by kinds of business for 1933, and shows the percentage of business done on a credit basis and the proportion of credit to cash sales in each kind of business. It also shows the number of stores extending credit and the number operating entirely on a cash basis or not clearly identified as to their credit status.

The average degree of change in credit ratio in credit-granting stores, shown for the United States as a whole, from 53 percent in 1929 to 46 percent in 1933, is reasonably consistent throughout the various kinds of business, but there are some exceptions worthy of note. On page IV is a comparative summary of 13 representative kinds of business for 1933 and for 1929:

By States

Table 5B presents credit information by States, showing the number of stores reporting credit, the amount of their sales, the proportion of their business which is credit and the proportion of total business which is done on a cash basis.

In few States is there a material change in the proportion of stores extending credit, although it appears that in the New England and Middle Atlantic States the trend has been toward greater use of credit. The same is true in the South Atlantic States, although it varies somewhat between States. There is a tendency toward less credit extension in the East North Central and Pacific geographic divisions. Although in some sections a greater proportion of stores were extending credit in 1933 than in 1929, the proportion of their credit sales was less. Below is a comparison by States of the proportion of credit sales to cash sales in the two years, using for 1929 the ratios shown in the Retail Census volumes of the Census of Distribution:

On page V is a comparative summary of credit business by States and geographic divisions, for 1933 and 1929, showing the number of stores selling for cash and their sales, the number selling on credit and their sales on credit and for cash, and the proportion of total retail sales made on credit. The decline in credit business was most pronounced in the industrial States of the East North Central division and on the Pacific Coast. Appreciably smaller decline in credit business is to be observed in the agricultural regions, particularly the West North Central and South Atlantic divisions. Other divisions are shown in the table, as well as figures for each State.
